RECEIVES FLOOD OF MESSAGES

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—Indiana today tried to show James Whitcomb Riley, her poet, how deep is the affection in which he is held by the people of his native state. In every community and in every school fitting tribute was paid to this beloved bard.

The climax of the celebration came tonight with a banquet at which Mr. Riley spoke. The poet voiced a few simple words of gratitude for the praise which had been showered upon him by Charles Warren Fairbanks, Senator John W. Kern, Col. George Harvey, George Ade, John H. Finley, Governor Samuel M. Ralston and other speakers at the banquet.

Riley never speaks of his age, for he says, "I never want my friends to think I am getting old." More than 2,000 of the poet's friends greeted him at the theater. A number of his poems had been set to music and these were interpreted by dancers. Some of the most prominent men in the world of letters spoke at the banquet.

Evances Delight at Tributes.
The flood of congratulations which has poured in on Mr. Riley for the past two weeks reached its crest today. There were cheery messages from people in every walk of life. The poet evinced a keen delight at each of these tributes.

One of the unique presents received at the Riley home was a birthday cake shaped and colored like a pumpkin. Crowning it was a layer of frosting. It tipped Mr. Riley's poem, "The Frost is on the Pumpkin".

The card bore the message that the donor desired to be known only as "Old Aunt Mary".

Two Blacksmiths Send Gifts.

Two blacksmiths sent gifts. One was a hand made silver horse shoe. The other was a tiny hammer to which a card was attached saying "This is big enough for all the knocking you will ever want to do".

A letter congratulating him on his birthday reached Mr. Riley today from the American Academy of Arts and Letters the organization which three years ago acknowledged the Hoosier bard as the greatest living poet and presented him with a gold medal in testimony of that fact. The letter follows:

"In behalf of your associates of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, we send you our heartiest felicitations on your birthday and on the festival with which it is celebrated by your native state. The academy is deeply gratified by the honor thus accorded you and hails it as a recognition of the lasting worth of poetry as an influence in the national life. We wish you many happy and tranquil years."

Signers of Letters.

The letters dated New York were signed by William Dean Howells, president of the academy; William M. Sloane, Robert Underwood Johnson, Edwin Howland Blashfield, William C. Brownell, Thomas Hastings and William Rutherford Mead, directors of the academy.

The poet also received cable congratulations from Ambassador Page at Rome, Minister Brand Whitlock at Brussels and Minister Henry Van Dyke at the Hague. There also was a message of felicitation from President Wilson.

TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 7.—Instructions reached the German consulate here today from Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador at Washington to investigate and to forward to him affidavits signed by a foreman and four muleteers of the British steamship Nicolson charging that marines from the British patrol boat Baralong killed the captain and ten of a crew of a German submarine after the submarine had been sunk.

FARMERS MEET BANKERS.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7.—Practical farmers from Northern, Central and Southern states appeared before two hundred bankers from all sections of the country here today and in the simple words of the tiller of the soil told the financiers "what the farmer wants" in matters of rural credit.

FEEL EARTH SHOCKS.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—A well defined earthquake shock was felt here at 9:36 o'clock tonight.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES MANY CONGRATULATIONS

EXTRA FORCE IS NEEDED AT WHITE HOUSE TO HANDLE TELEGRAMS

Executive and Mrs. Galt Agree That Wedding Shall Not Take Place in White House—Ceremony Will Be Solemnized Within Two Months.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, whose engagement was announced last night, were the recipients today of congratulatory messages from all parts of the United States and from the representatives of foreign governments. Telegrams came to the White House in such numbers that an extra force of operators and clerks was needed to handle them.

Will Not Be at White House.

Definite arrangements for the wedding will not be made immediately, but it was disclosed that the president and Mrs. Galt have agreed it shall not take place in the white house because of the formality which would be necessary there. The ceremony will be solemnized within the next two months, before the convening of congress in December, either in Mrs. Galt's home or in one of the Washington churches.

An extended honeymoon will be impossible because of the imperative demands of official duty upon the president. His friends, however, are urging him to accept an invitation to attend the San Francisco and San Diego expositions just after his marriage. A short sea trip may be taken on the presidential yacht Mayflower.

Call on Members of Families.

During the afternoon he went to meet a few friends at the home of Mrs. W. H. Bolling, the mother of the bride-to-be, and tonight he had as his guests at dinner at the White House, Mrs. Galt, her mother, Secretary and Mrs. McAdoo and several other relatives. Miss Helen Woodward Bones, the president's cousin and Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his physician, both warm friends of Mrs. Galt's were among the guests.

Mrs. Galt, with heightened color was extremely shy when asked regarding details of her plans.

"I am very happy," she said, "but I am of no importance and the less the newspapers print about me the more I will appreciate it."

Will Go to New York Today.

The president and Mrs. Galt with Mrs. Bolling, Miss Bones, Dr. Grayson and Secretary Tamm will leave early tomorrow for New York to be the guests there of Col. E. M. House, the president's closest friend, and Mrs. House.

They will reach New York in the afternoon and the time before dinner probably will be devoted to the purchase of an engagement ring and an automobile ride.

After dinner Colonel and Mrs. House will give a theater party.

To Attend Ball Game Saturday.
Saturday morning the party will go to Philadelphia where the president will throw out the first ball used in the second game of the World's series.

Close friends of Mrs. Galt today described her as a woman without hobbies or fads. She is fond of horses but owns none. While she has tried golf, she has never been an enthusiast. She is interested in philanthropic work but her charities have always been of the quiet kind. She herself smilingly refused to say whether she was interested in woman suffrage or to be interviewed on any topic.

NAVAL CONSULTING BOARD ORGANIZES

Proposes Establishment of Laboratory to Cost
About $5,000,000

NAME EDISON CHAIRMAN

Estimate that Annual Operating Expenses of Laboratory Will Be Near $3,500,000

TO MEET EVERY SIXTY DAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Organization of the navy's new civilian advisory board here today with Thomas A. Edison as chairman, was followed by the adoption of a resolution proposing establishment of a great research and experimental laboratory to cost about $5,000,000.

It is probable the recommendation will be included by Secretary Daniels in his estimates to be sent to congress this winter.

To Hold Regular Meetings.

"The naval consulting board, a scientific title chosen by the scientists who compose the new arm of the navy with the approval of Secretary Daniels. It was announced that regular meetings would be held every sixty days, the next to take place in New York Dec. 8.

Two sessions were held today, the first devoted to organization and election of officers and the second to consideration of the research laboratory plant, which after being proposed by Secretary Daniels, was framed into an elaborate report by Mr. Edison, assisted by Dr. W. R. Whitney, Dr. L. H. Baekeland, R. S. Woodward and H. E. Coffin.

It was decided that there should be committees on chemistry and physics, aeronautics, including international combustion motors, electricity, torpedoes, mines and submarines, ordnance and explosives, wireless and communication, transportation, production and manufacture, ship construction, steam engineering and ship propulsion.

The committees will have been appointed by the time of the next meeting of the board. Each will have as members experts in the subjects with which it will deal.

Estimate Operating Expenses.

It is estimated that the annual operating expenses of the proposed laboratory would be between $2,500,000 and $3,500,000. The report recommends that a naval officer of rank and efficiency be placed in charge with a corps of capable assistants. Under these officers, it is suggested there should be staffs of civilian experimenters, the man working on each problem to have his own corps of assistants and shop facilities.

AUCTION MONROE'S CHALLENGE TO HAMILTON

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—A letter of James Monroe to Alexander Hamilton, challenging him to a duel, will be auctioned here today, among other interesting autograph letters. The Monroe letter is dated December 7, 1797, and shows the bitterness of feeling between him and Hamilton, growing out of the part taken by Monroe in promoting an investigation of Hamilton's relations with Mrs. Reynolds and in assailing his integrity as Secretary of the Treasury. The letter reads in part as follows:

"I requested Colonel Burr to inform you immediately after the receipt of yours of Aug. 9 that I was not satisfied with the explanation given by it of your preceding one of the 4th. * * * In my judgment you ought either to have been satisfied with the explanations which I gave you upon the subject to which those letters referred, or have invited me to the field. There seemed to be no intermediate ground for a man of honor to take; yet you found one. The explanations I gave you on that subject were liberal * * * Still it was not my intention to invite or even provoke a personal interview, because I had no motive for so doing, and many, especially at the time, for avoiding it. The idea was suggested by certain passages in yours having that tendency, to which I replied if you insisted I should accept it. But by this I did not mean to become an aggressor, not was it justly inferable. It was, however, not my intention to decline that issue if sought by you in any mode whatever. * * * I have, therefore, requested you further on the subject of that letter and empowered him in case you meant it as such to give you any answer to it and otherwise arrange the affair for the interview thus invited on your part."

AUSTRO-GERMANS INVADSE SERBIA

Teutons Cross the Drina, Danube and Save at Many Points

FORM GREEK CABINET

Constantine Will Remain Neutral
Unless Public Opinion Insists on Action

ROUMANIA IS STILL NEUTRAL

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The long threatened Austro-German offensive in the Balkans, with the added menace of Bulgaria, has begun in earnest.

Almost simultaneously with the rupture of diplomatic relations between Sofia and the entente powers, an Austro-German army estimated at 400,000 men with an enormous weight of heavy artillery, started to attack Serbia from the north and west and, according to the Berlin official report crossed the Drina, Danube and Save at many points and firmly established itself on the Serbian side.

Allied Troops Hurry North.

The Anglo-French troops, which were landed at Saloniki with the tacit consent of the Greek government, are being hurried northward to assist Serbia and, if possible keep the Bulgarians from capturing the Saloniki-Nish railroad the only source by which the Serbians can be fed with munitions of war. The hope for support from Greece has not been forthcoming. King Constantine, by the dismissal of Premier Venizelos having shown that, while his country sympathizes with the cause of the allies he is not prepared to go against the central powers or to fulfill the obligations of the Greek-Serbian treaty of alliance, which provides that one ally must go to the assistance of the other in the case of attack.

Appoint New Greek Cabinet.

A new Greek cabinet composed of men of pro-Greek and pro-ally sympathies has been appointed and the expectation now is that unless public opinion forces the hand of the government and insists on action on the side of the allies, Greece will remain neutral.

As in Greece public opinion in Bulgaria is not entirely unanimous in support of King Ferdinand and reports indicate that the Bulgarian mobilization is not being carried out without difficulty.

The king and Premier Radoslavoff, however, have finally thrown in their lot with Austria, Germany and Turkey, having, after consultation with the ministers of those countries, rejected the demands of Russia for the dismissal of the Austro-German officers, who, it is alleged, have been engaged to command the Bulgarian army.

Give Minister His Passports.

Bulgaria in fact denied the presence of such officers and the Russian, British, French and Italian ministers have either left or are leaving Sofia. Italy has taken action also by giving the Bulgarian minister at Rome his passports.

It is possible that Bulgaria may also arouse the Greek people by failure to attack Serbia, simply keeping her troops on the border. This would have the effect of preventing Serbia from bringing her full strength to bear against the Austro-German attack.

Roumania, the other Balkan state, is still neutral. Roumania has not been heard from, but for the moment is bent on continuing friendly relations with all the belligerents.

COMPLETE JURY TO TRY CHARLES B. MUNDAY

DEFENSE ACCEPTS FOUR LAST MEN
UNDER PROTEST

Afternoon Session of Court is Marked by Delays Through Legal Wranglings of Lawyers on Both Sides—Receiver of Defunct Bank to Testify.

Morris, Ill., Oct. 7.—The jury to try Charles B. Munday for alleged wrecking of the LaSalle Street Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago brought to Grundy county on a change of venue from Cook county, was completed at noon today when the last four men of a venire of thirty were accepted by the defense under protest. The defense had exhausted its peremptory challenges.

The afternoon session of the court, at which the opening statements of the attorneys for the prosecution and defense were to have been made, was marked by delays through legal wranglings of the lawyers on both sides. When these had ended Assistant State's Attorney Holly began his statement of the state's case. He had not finished when court adjourned for the day. He reviewed the twenty nine counts in the indictment wherein charges are made of the attempted wrecking of the bank. He said the state would attempt to prove that the disaster to the institution was the result of a conspiracy to "milk" the bank by "fake certificates, kited checks, substitution of worthless paper and threats of closing out the 'small fry' connected with the institution when they objected to the methods being employed by those engaged in the alleged conspiracy." Attorney Holly entered at some length into explanation from the state's viewpoint of alleged increased valuation on buildings and other property, false bank statements, and made without investigation credit men of the bank and so favored individuals and without the approval of the directors of the bank and also of the alleged corruption of a bank examiner. The lawyer gave an explanation of Munday's alleged check system, whereby overdrafts were carried from one institution to another indefinitely.

William DeBlack, receiver of the defunct bank, is in the court room as a spectator today. It was said he would be the first witness called by the state.

They visited both fairs and spent ten weeks of their time in Los Angeles. On the way home they visited in El Paso, San Antonio, Houston, Galveston, New Orleans, Vicksburg, Memphis and other places. While in the south they witnessed the effects of the big storm and were appalled at the great loss of property and of lives. RECOGNITION OF CARRANZA LIKELY

U. S. Officials Impressed
With Achievements of Mexican 'First Chief'

WILL MEET SATURDAY

Pan-American Diplomats to Report Their Opinions of Factions Claiming Recognition

SOME MAY ADVISE WAITING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Recognition of the Carranza government in Mexico it was learned in official circles today, is likely to be accorded by the United States within the next few weeks.

Data submitted by the revolutionaries factions is being considered now and next Saturday the conference of Pan-American diplomats presided over by Secretary Lansing will be held, as planned three weeks ago.

Each Will Report Opinion.

The secretary and each of the diplomats will report their opinions on the material and moral capacity of the factions claiming recognition. It generally is believed that the intention of the United States with respect to recognition will be communicated by diplomats here to their governments so that action may be taken by other nations at the same time.

While it is possible the discussion may not be terminated at Saturday's meeting the general belief is that some announcement eventually will be made by the conference stating which faction should be accorded recognition.

Some May Advise Waiting.

Some diplomats are said to believe that no faction has met the standard of "material and moral capacity" set for an established government and to advise a continuance of the policy of waiting.

Officials of the Washington government, however, are understood to believe that such a course would only add to the conditions of chaos in Mexico with further fighting, after which there would be no certainty that an ideal government would be created. Within the last few days the Carranza authorities have transmitted to the American government statements, which conform to consular reports showing that the Carranza forces have achieved a military supremacy in Mexico controlling the majority of the states and the large cities. Therefore, the Washington administration virtually is satisfied that the requisite "material capacity" is possessed by that faction.

Has Transmitted Guarantees.

As for the requirement of "moral capacity." General Carranza has transmitted guarantees that the lives and property of foreigners will be given protection in accordance with international law and treaty obligations, that amnesty will be granted soon after the central government is established to all who have fought him except those guilty of complicity in the plot for overthrow Madero or of civil crimes and that religious freedom will be permitted in accordance with the Mexican laws of 1857 which declare that no one shall suffer in his life or property for his religious worship. These assurances, it is thought in official circles, cover the requirements of "moral capacity" and unless some development arises to complicate the situation, extension of recognition to Carranza by the American government is considered almost certain.

Certainly President Wilson cannot be accused of "a watchful waiting policy" in matrimonial affairs.

Mr. Beveridge Still Young.

Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who has been a somewhat conspicuous figure in American politics for a number of years, has attracted more attention recently as a war correspondent and magazine writer than as a political leader. Mr. Beveridge was one of the most prominent in the progressive movement in 1912 and was chairman of the convention in Chicago. He has had the unusual distinction of election to the United States Senate when he was thirty-seven years old and served for two terms. He has recently celebrated his fifty-third birthday and this is a comparatively young man so far as public life goes. Since he has left the senate he has in various ways kept in the public eye, and no doubt has the expectation of again being accounted as a prominent man in his party.

Fire Prevention Day.

Tomorrow, Oct. 9, has been designated as fire prevention day and will be observed in a large number of cities. For several years an educational campaign has been in progress to emphasize the fact that a very great percentage of fires are caused by carelessness. It goes without saying, therefore, that the campaigns have the definite purpose of reaching the people this fact and of laying stress upon certain precautionary measures, which, if followed, will greatly reduce the fire loss.

State fire marshals, the federal authorities and fire prevention experts generally have estimated the proportion of fires due to preventable causes at between twenty-five and fifty per cent. The Texas state insurance board holds that practically eighty per cent of fires are preventable by the exercise of reasonable care and protection, individual and municipal. The insurance companies are no doubt largely interested in this country-wide agitation and will be greatly benefited when the people give heed to all the facts presented, but the public generally will share in this benefit as well as the companies.

The Intensive Method.

A writer in a Dubuque paper declares that although Iowa is a great agricultural state, that there are too many large farms. He argues that the total results would be much better and greater if Iowa were farmed somewhat on the plan which prevails in Wisconsin. There the farms are much smaller and the intensive methods are those which always characterize a dairying country.

Illinois is very much in the same condition with Iowa in this regard, and the greatest returns in agriculture are not going to come until the farmers realize that what is needed is not more land but more detailed attention to the land that they now operate. The slogan for good farming in Illinois nowadays is not only to make every foot of farming land productive. On the average farm today there are waste lots and corners and spaces which might easily become productive under more careful farming plans. Intensive farming will mean too, that the soil will be used for the production of more than one crop a year. This can be accomplished by means of the right methods without robbing the soil of fertility.

The farmers of Illinois have made some advances along this line as prices of farm lands have increased, but they have still a great many things to learn and still more to practice in this regard.

Mr. Wilson Is Tactful.

President Wilson's recent announcement that he will go to New Jersey to vote in favor of the amendment to the constitution of that state providing equal suffrage for women, is consistent with his previous statements on this subject. He has all along declared his belief in the principles on which the demand for woman's suffrage is based, but has maintained that the question should be decided by the states individually rather than by an amendment to the national constitution.

The president's statement at this time is so tactfully worded that it gives the impression that his action is shrewd from a political standpoint. He lays emphasis on his belief that woman's suffrage should not be made a party issue, and is evidently seeking to keep his party convention on this question. Undoubtedly Mr. Wilson is seeking to placate the advocates of woman's suffrage and to give no offense to those who are opposed.

And from a personal or sentimental standpoint the president could have chosen no more opportune time for his suffrage statement than the very day the interesting announcement was made of his engagement to the charming and wealthy Washington widow.

Truthful Advertising.

So many laws were passed by the last Illinois general assembly that the public generally is only acquainted with a very few of them. Little prominence has been given to a measure introduced to put a check to fraudulent advertising. This law is comprehensive and excellent in its intent. It provides that any person or firm which by an advertisement in a newspaper or circular, knowingly disseminates any incorrect statement with reference to quantity, quality, value, merit or price of merchandise shall be subject if convicted to a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than sixty days, or by both fine and imprisonment.

The purpose of the law needs no explanation, as one reading makes it clear that the desire is to make it dangerous for any Illinois merchant to seek to deceive and defraud the public by misleading with reference to merchandise that he is offering for sale. It is fortunate for Jacksonville that the merchants of this city have the habit of confining themselves to truthful advertising statements, and when they advertise a dollar article at 75c the public knows that the bargain is genuine.

Liquor the Paramount Issue.

From present indications Mayor Thompson's unexpected action in ordering the saloons of Chicago closed on Sunday has made liquor the paramount issue in Illinois, with home rule for Chicago as a close second. Three Republican candidates or near candidates for the governorship nomination have already come out in the open and declared that they believe that the laws of the state should be enforced whether relating to liquor or any other subject. These statements were made by Frank O. Lowden, Andrew Russell and Charles Akins, in answer to queries propounded by the Chicago Tribune. Mr. Akins' reply was the single emphatic word "Yes."

Mr. Russell had this to say: "I stand for the observance of all laws, and if elected to any office within the gift of the people will do my utmost to see that the state dramsop act with reference to Sunday closing and all other matters is strictly enforced."

Mr. Lowden's reply also left no doubt as to his position.

"There can be no dispute between good citizens as to the question of the enforcement of the law. As executive, if I should be nominated and elected, it would be my duty to invoke and employ whatever power is vested in the office by the constitution and the statutes to execute and enforce the laws, and this duty would apply to the Sunday closing law as well as to any other. If I am elected governor I shall perform this duty without fear and without favor."

While Mayor Thompson is being praised and condemned for the action he has taken, and his motives are variously construed, it must be admitted that the mayor has put himself in a somewhat compromising position. He has admitted that prior to his election he signed a promise to the United Societies, which represented the liquor interests of Chicago, that if elected he would not take action adverse to liquor interests. The mayor's explanation of his seeming change of front is that in making that promise he did not contemplate any action which was contrary to law, and says further that when advised by the state's attorney that in accordance with his oath of office it was his duty to enforce the Sunday closing law, that he decided at once upon this action. In other words, the mayor declares that an oath of office has precedence over a pre-election pledge.

The Springfield Journal in an editorial under the caption "Revelations in Chicago Politics," gives a truthful insight into the political circles of Chicago. Undoubtedly they have their own peculiar methods up there, and the average down state resident has little realization of the real conditions, but the State Journal gives a good line-up on the situation.

"On numerous occasions The State Journal has felt impelled to make comment on Chicago politics and Chicago politicians, directing the attention of down-state folks to the danger of becoming involved in Cook county factional wars.

"Revelations regarding the politics of Mayor Thompson's Sunday closing order furnish a clue for another preachment along this line. Thompson's action, The State Journal is informed, was precipitated by a political effort to discredit and wreck his administration.

Cook county politicians who knew that Thompson had made a pledge to the United Societies undertook to use their knowledge as a club over the mayor, says The State Journal's informant. "If you have been watching affairs in the Chicago council, you have observed the appearance of resolutions on the Sunday closing proposition. These were introduced to embarrass the mayor and force him to show his hand. No one dreamed that he would close the saloons.

"Thompson is something of a political novice, but he knew that he had been marked. So he decided to beat the other fellows to it and take a chance. He was probably aware that the United Societies would make public his ante-election pledge. And he knew, too, that it would discredit him. But he also knew that if the United Societies didn't crucify him, his enemies in the council would. That's the sort of a game you are up against when you are in politics in Cook county.

"Country folks will not be able to understand why Thompson ever signed that pledge to the United Societies. That is because they do not know Cook county politics. Thompson simply had to sign that pledge. If he had not agreed, in advance, to become a perjurer on the day he took the oath of office, his candidacy wouldn't have amounted to a blacksmith's belows blast in a hurricane. You can't get anywhere in Chicago politics with the organized law-breakers of that community fighting you at the polls.

"Bill says his conscience dictated his course. He thought more of his oath to the city than he did of his promise to the United Societies. He had to break one and he decided that the greater obligation was to the public. And so it was, but his decision is going to cost him his political life in Chicago. The public is not appreciative of officials who do not their duty. It forgets. The United Societies does not forget. It will tie Bill Thompson and his conscience on the rack of its post-mortem displeasure and the public will merely grin while Bill writhes under the 'unbusiness'."

"Whether this is a correct analysis of the Chicago situation or merely surmise, it is justified by the history of Chicago politics. Down state residents are well out of the Chicago game. They will do well out of it. And they should see to it that the Cook county politicians are not permitted to involve them in Cook county intrigues."

The liquor question has occupied an increasingly important place in political affairs of Illinois for the past fifteen years and the line-up on local option in recent years has had a great bearing upon other legislative questions. The discussion and agitation of the liquor question in Illinois is simply a part of a great national discussion of the question.

Still greater point has been given to the whole big question by the great war. No more startling comment on the dangers and evils of liquor has ever been recorded than the action of the countries at war in limiting the manufacture and placing such rigid restrictions upon the sale and consumption of liquor. So extensive a prohibitive movement could not have been accomplished by educational or political discussion through decades as happened because of the great war. The action across the water has been reflected in public sentiment in this country and it is safe to say that there has been a smaller consumption of liquor per capita in this country the past year than has been true for a very long period of years preceding.

The widespread sentiment on this question was indicated a few months ago also when a proposed law submitting the question of amending the constitution to provide for national prohibition received in congress considerably more than a majority vote and came quite close to the necessary two-thirds. Men stood up in congress and by voice and vote went on record in favor of prohibitory laws, who a few years ago were afraid to talk above a whisper on the same subject. The same tendency has been evidenced in Chicago and New York and other cities where there has been considerable discussion of the evils of the treating habit, and there has come the advocacy of a law to prohibit treating. No matter what Mayor Thompson's motive in his recent action, he has only brought to a head a question which was lying only just a little beneath the surface in the Illinois political situation. He has hurried along the issue and now it can be fought out in the open, and there is every indication that it will be battle royal. Even many men, who are not classed as "dry" believe that liquor should not seek to dominate political affairs and they are right.

The Chicago Tribune is quite sarcastic about Mayor Thompson's order but at the same time gives expression to the belief that a majority of the people of Chicago will be with him on the proposition. Here are the closing sentences of a Tribune editorial yesterday:

"Mr. Thompson would not have done this four years ago. He would not be doing it now unless he was convinced a majority of the people of the city wanted it done. We may be entirely wrong, but we opine that Mayor Thompson's political judgment is not at fault.

"We believe that most Chicagoans think they can get enough to drink in six days a week."

The action opens in Auld Ireland and then shifts to Central Ohio and then to the Lower East Side of New York City. FOUND LEAK AT COURT HOUSE.

Mention was made Wednesday morning of a leak in the boiler pit at the court house. Janitor Wannamaker had plumbers working all day Wednesday and the leak finally was located. It seems that in years past plumbers in placing water pipe in the building had put a pipe in a chimney on the east wall of the of the building. This pipe had rusted through and the water followed the cast iron sewer pipe and finally worked its way into the boiler pit.

Janitor Wannamaker says it never rains but it always pours. After having his troubles with a leaky water pipe for two days he got that fixed and when he started to fire the heating plant Thursday morning he discovered that several flues had sprung leaks. The result was that the various county offices had to get what heat they could during the day from coal oil stoves. Workmen were busy late Thursday afternoon and it is hoped to have the repairs completed so that heat can be furnished today.

The venerable John Barber of the northeast part of county was in the city yesterday. He was accompanied by his grandson, Earl Buckley, who who tenderly cared for his sightless ancestor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lazenby, Harvey Scott, Misses Harriet and Rachel Scott, have returned from St. Louis where they went to see the Veiled Prophet's parade and attend the fair.

There never was a busier time in the fall season for farmers than now confronts them. It is seemingly more difficult, too, to secure extra workers than ever before, and men who will work by the day or will furnish teams are in great demand. One reason for this condition is the fact that corn matured so late and thus made the filling of silos several weeks later than usual. Still another reason can be found in the fact that wet weather delayed the threshing of grain, and while ordinarily at this season of the year all oats and wheat have been threshed, now there are a great many threshing outfits working in the county. It is estimated that it will take at least a month yet with the equipment now in service to finish up local threshing work.

The late season also made it impossible to cut a great deal of corn where farmers intended to sow wheat, and in a number of instances farmers are now seeking extra help with the idea of rushing corn cutting in fields just matured to such an extent that they may still be able to get in a wheat crop. But even with the wheat sown by means of this extra activity on the part of farmers, the total area in the county sown to wheat will not be nearly so large as last year or in previous years.

Still another cause of farm activity is due to the larger acreage of alfalfa. The fourth cutting on most fields where alfalfa is growing has just been completed, and this is fall work which a few years ago was entirely unknown. On still other farms a good deal of tilling work is in progress, owing to the fact that the wet season of 1915 brought to realization the need there was of many farms for some additional age.

Late plowing which was made necessary by the numerous rains is also in progress. A great many fields usually under the plow in August or the early part of September, were so wet this year that plowing could not be done.

While they are not numerous, a few farmers are also busy with harvesting soy beans. Soy beans are usually planted in the latter part of May, but along with other seeding work this was delayed by the frequent rains. As a result, soy bean fields have but recently matured and are ready for cutting. Soy beans are sometimes cut with a mower and then stacked just like any other hay. In some instances a binder is used and the hay is stacked in bundles. This is the plan usually followed by John W. Lazenby, who is a successful grower of soy beans and has found the crop beneficial to the soil and a great aid in giving a balanced ration to both cattle and hogs. Another plan of handling the beans is to have them threshed out and the hay baled. There is a good market demand for the beans for seed purposes, as the spring demand usually exceeds the supply, as the advantages of planting this crop are becoming more and more apparent.

Because in so many fields the corn is down badly the expense of shocking corn is greater this year than usual, and men working in the fields are demanding from sixteen to twenty cents a shock. A man who is a good hand with a corn knife can cut about fifteen shocks a day. Corn cutting, however, is ranked as one of the hardest duties on the farm and there are a great many men who would rather do most any other work than corn cutting, notwithstanding the good wages that they can make.

GIRL, SICK WITH FEVER, AWAKES TO FIND HOUSEBREAKER IN ROOM

Daughter of Y. D. Day of Hardin Avenue Becomes Aware of Intruder's Presence and Gives Alarm—Man Jumps Through Window.

Breaking into the home of Yewell D. Day, 705 Hardin avenue, at one o'clock Thursday morning, and struggling from the grasp of Mr. Day, who caught the intruder as the two were in the kitchen, an unknown young man leaped through a closed window and made his escape. Mr. Day's daughter, who is ill with typhoid fever, first became aware of the intruder's presence, and, screaming for assistance, she clutched at the man's head and secured hold of his hair. Her parents awoke immediately. Mrs. Day running to the home of a neighbor for help and Mr. Day giving pursuit. Though no arrests were made Thursday, the police were on close lookout. A suspect was reported but no direct clue found to establish identity of the housebreaker.

CROP REPORT INDICATES
RECORD HARVESTSWHEAT CROP WILL EXCEED A BILLION BUSHELS.

Corn Is Still King of Crops With Indications of 3,026,159,000 Bushels—Higher Prices Assure Most Valuable Corn Crop Ever Grown.

Washington, Oct. 7.—American harvests this year will be the most valuable ever produced. With the wheat crop exceeding a billion bushels, the largest ever grown in one season by any nation, and a corn crop which also may prove to be the largest ever grown, the government's October crop report issued today announced preliminary estimates which indicate record harvests of oats, barley, rye, sweet potatoes, rice tobacco and hay.

Corn is still king of crops with indications of 3,026,159,000 bushels.

While that is 98,000,000 bushels below the record of 1912, the final production, when the harvest is finished and all statistics compiled, may more than make up the deficiency. The higher prices this year assure the most valuable corn crop ever grown. At prices to farmers prevailing Oct. 1, the corn crop is worth $2,133,000,000.

Wheat prospects increased as the growing season progressed and the government's early season forecasts moved up month by month so that today's preliminary estimate of production was placed at 1,002,029,930 bushels.

Wet weather at harvest time, however, reduced the quality of winter wheat so that much of it will not be available for milling purposes and will have to be used for feed. At prices prevailing Oct. 1, the farm value of the crop is $910,844,000, considerably more than ever, was paid for a wheat crop before.

September weather was particularly destructive to potatoes, causing a reduction of 37,758,000 bushels or ten per cent. in the forecast of production.

Tobacco also suffered from unfavorable conditions which caused a decrease of 21,345,000 pounds in the production forecast.

Tobacco however, promises to exceed the record crop of 1909 by 43,000,000 pounds.

Oats will exceed the record crop of 1912 by almost 100,000,000 bushels. Barley will exceed its record by 13,000,000 bushels; sweet potatoes by 5,000,000 bushels and hay by 8,000,000 tons.

The nation's wheat crop this year is the largest ever grown and half a dozen other crops have exceeded record production. This was shown in the government's October crop report issued today by the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture which based its preliminary estimates and forecasts of production on a canvass made Oct. 1 by its many agents throughout the country. The estimates and forecasts, together with the forecasts made from the September 1 canvass, follows:

(In thousands, 1,000's omitted).
Winter wheat . . . 556,866 659,114
Spring wheat . . . 345,163 322,000
All wheat . . . 1,002,029 981,000
Corn . . . 3,026,159 2,985,000
Oats . . . 1,002,029 981,000
Barley . . . 236,682 223,000
Rye . . . 44,179 44,179
Buckwheat . . . 16,738 18,000
White Potatoes . . . 368,151 406,000
Sweet potatoes . . . 64,800 65,000
Flax . . . 17,655 18,000
Rice . . . 26,251 26,000
Tobacco (lbs.) . . . 1,098,804 1,120,000
Peanut . . . 64,218 64,218
Apples (bbls.) . . . 71,632
Hay, tame (tns.) . . . 80,983 80,983
Hay, wild (tns.) . . . 20,293 20,293
Sug. beets (tns.) . . . 6,158

Comparison of the October indications with the September forecast show the change in bushels in crop prospects affected by weather and other conditions during September.

Details of each crop, other than totals production, as announced by the department follows:

Spring wheat: Indicated acre yield 17.9 bushels, compared with 11.8 last year and 13.3 the 1909-13 average.

Corn: Condition 79.7 per cent. of a normal, compared with 78.8 last month, and 78.0 the ten year average. Indicated acre yield 27.7 bushels, compared with 25.8 last year and 25.9 the 1909-13 average.

Oats: Indicated acre yield 37.8 bushels, compared with 29.7 last year and 30.6, the 1909-13 average.

White Potatoes: Condition 74.2 per cent. of a normal, compared with 82.7 last month and 74.6 the ten year average. Indicated acre yield 98.6 bushels, compared with 105.5 last year and 97.1 the 1909-13 average.

Sweet Potatoes: Condition 85 per cent. of a normal, compared with 87.5 last month and 82.2 the ten year average. Indicated acre yield 98.2 bushels, compared with 93.8 last year and 92.7 the 1909-13 average.

Potatoes: Condition 63 per cent. of a normal, compared with 62.7 last month and 53.5 the ten year average. The crop reporting board's next general report will be issued on Monday, Nov. 8.

EXPERTS DISSECT MORAL STATUS

Boston, Oct. 8.—Speakers of national prominence in promoting the moral status of their communities are attending the annual meeting of the American Social Hygiene Association, which opened here today. The moral experts are joining with the Massachusetts Society for Social Hygiene in the discussion of the problems of sex education. Dr. Charles W. Eliot of Harvard is president of the latter organization.

The joint session opened at the Copley Plaza this morning, when a business meeting was held. This afternoon and evening the public will be invited to hear the talks by the experts from many cities. Among those on the program for today are Dr. John D. Trowell of Louisville and Dr. Rollin H. Stevens of Detroit, both of whom are health officers and have performed valuable work in their home cities. Dr. Thomas W. Salmon of New York, secretary of the National Commission on Mental Hygiene; Dr. George A. Colver of Rochester, N. Y., a conspicuous factor in improving his home in a moral and sanitary way; Dr. Allan J. McLaughlin of the Mass. State Board of Health; Samuel H. Adams of New York, one of the leaders in the American Medical Association propaganda against impure drugs and foods; Dr. C. E. Banks of Washington, D. C., a professional health official, and others.

The American Social Hygiene Association was formed in 1913 by the union of the American Federation for Sex Hygiene and the American Vigilance Association, both of which had become recognized among those who keep in touch with philanthropic and social service work as dominating factors in the suppression of vice and lessening the mental and moral degeneracy and economic waste which are its attendant evils.

Dr. Eliot has announced that the group of Massachusetts men and women who studied for five years the means of teaching social hygiene have found that the subject is inevitably associated with alcoholism, the care of defectives, and the medical treatment on a large scale of certain types of diseases in hospitals and dispensaries. They have found that the best approach to the various classes of persons who need instruction in social hygiene is through agencies already in existence for other purposes, such as men's clubs, women's clubs, Christian associations, trades unions, granges, benefit societies, boards of health and public enjoyment.

STOVE DRAWING AT

ANDRE & ANDRE'S

A large number of ladies assembled in front of the store of Andre & Andre yesterday afternoon to witness the drawing for the Buck's hot blast ventilator stove. C. E. Kuper, demonstrator from the factory, was on hand and on a platform had the stove in action and demonstrated its fine points.

When all was in readiness Mrs. Thomas Galtons, Miss Georgia Sample and Mrs. Peckham were asked to ascend the platform and conduct the drawing having been selected at random from the gathering. The tickets were placed in a box and Miss Sample drew them out and when the lucky number of thirteen was reached, or rather, the thirteen ticket was drawn, it proved to have on it the name of Mrs. R. C. Allen of South East street. But the lady wasn't present and according to the terms of the drawing the one whose name appeared on the next ticket was entitled to the stove and that person proved to be Mrs. William H. Doolin of Jacksonville rural route 5.

The stove is for soft coal and will prove a treasure to the fortunate lady who won it. Everything went off in a perfectly satisfactory manner. Mrs. Allen's husband was present but the terms called for the lady and of course she could find no fault with the firm who awarded the stove to Mrs. Doolin.

MAIL SUBSCRIPTION
PRICE TO BE REDUCEDDAILY JOURNAL RATE BY MAIL
WILL CHANGE TO $4.00.

New Order Will Become Effective October 15th and Apply to Paid in Advance Subscriptions—Subscribers Now Paid Ahead Will Be Given Proper Credit.

The subscription price of the Jacksonville Daily Journal by mail will be $4.00 per year, payable in advance, the new price to become effective Friday, Oct. 15. Mail subscribers who are in arrears are expected to pay up to that date and may then secure the advantage of the lower subscription price. Subscribers who are paid in advance will have their subscriptions extended in accordance with the dates to which they have paid.

The Jacksonville Daily Journal has a mail subscription list of more than eighteen hundred, and the management believe that notwithstanding this excellent clientele of subscribers along the rural routes and in towns, that the circulation by means of this reduction can be quite materially increased. The benefit accruing to advertisers will be apparent.

The Daily Journal has a complete leased wire Associated Press telegraph report which includes worldwide news and the best market summaries; the Journal's correspondents are in every neighborhood and town in the county, and locally an ample news force makes every possible effort to record all the happenings of the day and to keep constantly in touch with every interest in Jacksonville.

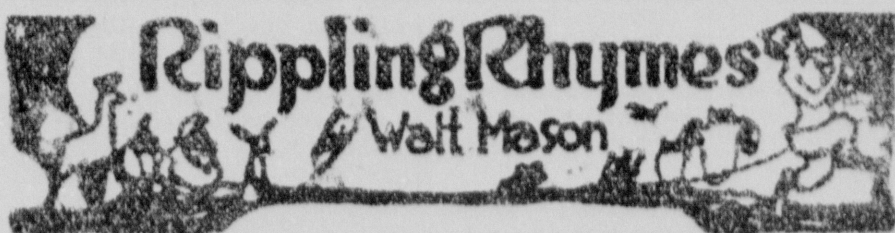

The Journal seeks to be a home newspaper, that brings to its subscribers each day the summarized news of all the world, and the complete details of every local happening which may interest them. The people of the country are now more closely associated with the people of the city than was formerly true, and are interested in all Jacksonville happenings. The rural routes, telephone connections and improved road conditions are responsible for the change. The expense of delivering papers by mail is figured at a less cost than delivery by city carriers, and the lower price charged for mail subscriptions payable in advance is justified by these facts.

If you are now a mail subscriber for the Journal and in arrears, pay up your subscription to Oct. 15, and take advantage of the new rate in effect from that date. If you are not now a reader of the Journal, send in your order with $1.00 and it will be forwarded to your address for a period of three months from Oct. 15.

SUFFRAGISTS HONOR PIONEER.

Seneca Falls, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The second of a series of celebrations in honor of the centennial of the birth of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, the pioneer suffragist, takes place here today, on the spot where the first women's right convention was held in 1848. Prominent suffrage leaders from many states of the East are present, and the party will journey tomorrow to the birthplace of Mrs. Stanton at Johnstown. On Oct. 16 a big meeting will be held in New York at the home where the pioneer lived when she ran for Congress. The final celebration will be held on Oct. 30, at a luncheon in New York, at which surviving friends of Mrs. Stanton will speak. The opening of the long series of events took place in New York on Sept. 25, at the house where Mrs. Stanton lived during the Civil war.

Miss Orena Unken of Chapin called on her sister, Miss Edna, the bookkeeper and stenographer at the store of Andre & Andre.

MOTHER AND MAID.

A maiden in a garden swing is surely an entrancing thing. She wears a gown of white, mayhap, a Chambers novel in her lap, her hands are soft and lily-white, and earth affords no fairer sight. Man views her with romantic tears, and in his heart bewails the years, which bar him from the lover's vow, forbidding him so sweet a frau. And then around the house he goes, and sees her mother washing clothes, or hanging rags upon the line, with aches all up and down her spine. Her hands look fierce, for they were boiled, as o'er the tub she sadly toiled; her face is roughed by steaming duds, her eyes and hair are full of suds. The stranger tears his whiskers then, and goes back round the house again, and sees the maiden in the swing, a charming and delightful thing. "I'm glad," he sighs, "that I am old, I'm glad my blood is running cold, or I might fall upon my knees, before that darsel 'neath the trees, and she might sitly whisper yes—naught could be worse than that. I guess!"

MORNING GLANCES.

Boston and New York Nationals played the last of the season's game Thursday, New York winning by a score of 15 to 8. The game reminded one of some played back in the seventies in the matter of hits and runs. New York made 24 hits and Boston got seventeen hits.

New York again defeated the American League champions yesterday by a score of 4 to 3. The game marked the close of the season in New York and each team used sixteen players. Gregg and Collins worked for the Red Sox.

Jimmy Lavender lunged the Indian sign on Clarence Rowland's hand slugging White Sox yesterday. Lavender was effective throughout the entire game and the final score was 4 to 0 in favor of the Cubs. The cold weather made ball playing bad and the result was a small crowd to witness the second game of the city series.

Everything is in readiness for the opening game of the world's series this afternoon. While it is conceded by fans that Moran will pitch Alexander, still he might fool all the wise ones and pitch someone else. At this distance though it looks like it will be Alexander for the Phillies and Ruth or Leonard for Boston with the odds probably in favor of Ruth who in addition to pitching great ball at this time is also as hard a hitter as there is on the Boston team.

MATTIE BALDWIN IS PUT OUT.

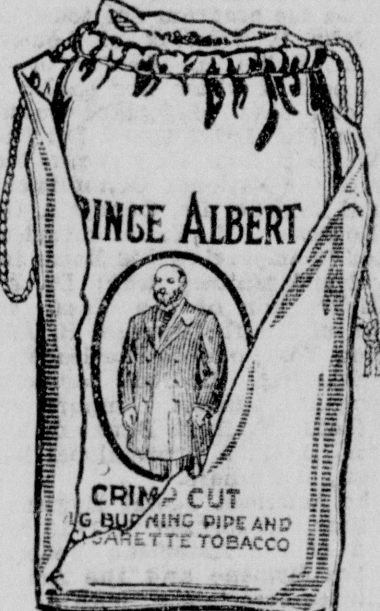

Boston, Oct. 5.—Matty Baldwin of this city, New England light-weight champion, was knocked out tonight in the first round of a twelve round match by Charley White, of Chicago. It was the first knockout ever scored on Baldwin.

PRINCE ALBERT

is such good tobacco you feel like you could just eat the smoke!

Yes, sir, P. A. puts a razor edge on your smoke-appetite-division that's nobby enough to be photographed!

The toppy red bag, 5c

No other pipe and cigarette tobacco can be like Prince Albert, because no other tobacco can be made like Prince Albert. The patented process fixes that—and removes the tongue-bite and throat parch! Let that digest!

And that line of conversation is 24 kt., whether you play P. A. in your old jimmy pipe or roll it into a makin's cigarette.

For you can put your little old blue-pencil O. K. right here that Prince Albert is a regular double-header for a single admission—as joy'us to your tongue and taste one way as the other!

Will the "rollers" kindly step forward for a spell and get some of this listen into their systems? Because Prince Albert certain and sure jams more joy into a makin's paper than ever before was figured up on two hands!

In the plain language of the hills, you can't any more resist such makin's tobacco than a bullfrog can pass up a piece of red flannel! Because P. A. hands to you everything any cigarette roller ever dreamed-out—rare flavor, and aroma, and mildness, and body; absolutely the best bet—the best smoke you or any other man ever did roll and put the fire to! Men, we tell you to wise up.

P. A. is crimp cut and stays put—which means rolling P. A. is as easy as falling off a log. And it's good to remember P. A. is put up in the toppy red bag especially for you "rollers." Sells for the price of a jitney ride, 5c.

Now, will the "pipers" kindly open both ears?

Here's tobacco that has made it possible for three men to smoke pipes where one smoked before!

Any way you hook it up, Prince Albert is tobacco insurance! Yes, sir, it guarantees your future as well as your present smokings! And just makes your tongue so jimmy pipe joy'us that your smoke appetite grows whopping big. You men who "dassn't," we say you go to P. A., natural-like! Because there isn't a bite in a barrel of this national joy smoke.

Unlimber your old jimmy pipe! Dig it out of the dark corner, jam it brimful of P. A. And make fire with a match! Me-o-my!

You get acquainted with Prince Albert in the toppy red bag, 5c; or tidy red tin, 10c, but for the double-back-action-joy, you buy a crystal-glass pound humidor. And then you're set! You see, it has the sponge-moistener top and keeps P. A. at the highest top-notch point of perfection. Prince Albert is also sold in pound and half-pound tin humidors.

The tidy red tin, 10c

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—Peter Scott, the Peter the Great-Jenny Scott stallion, driven by Thomas W. Murphy won the $5,000 Transylvania stake, the chief attraction of the Grand Circuit card here today in straight heats.

Worthy Prince was a close contender in the first two heats and Lizzie Brown in the third but the winner was not extended.

SCHOOL READERS.

The Ones That Swayed the Boys of a Generation Ago.

STIRRING "PIECES TO SPEAK."

Favorite Selections of the Days of Yore Find No Favor in the Newer Books—Lament of an Old Timer and a Bookstore Chat.

Forty school weeks mean forty Friday afternoons. Forty Friday afternoons mean to the pupils in some schools near New York forty hated piece speaking occasions.

"What," asked the boy of Smith Apperson, pater, "shall I speak next time?"

"Why not recite Richard III. to his troops at Bosworth field?" Apperson answered confidently. "There's a piece with lots of slam and go to it. Or there is 'Spartacus to the Gladiators.'" "Who was he, Spartacus?"

"Don't you know who Spartacus was? Look in your Fifth reader. It tells all about him there."

"Not in my reader," insisted the boy. "Not in?" Mr. Apperson looked stumped, but he pulled himself together.

"How about 'Freedom Shrieked When Kosciuszko Fell?' he asked. "Got that in your reader?"

"No, sir."

"And 'My Name Is Norval on the Grampian Hills?'"

"The Grampians are in Scotland, I believe, but who was Norval and why the limitation to his name?" the boy asked.

"Hum! And that 'Midnight in His Guarded Tent' when 'The Turk Lay Dreaming of the Hour.' Got that in your reader?"

"No, sir."

"What kind of reader have you got?" Smith Apperson demanded. "Once more. Does the 'Deep and Dark Blue Ocean' roll on through any of the pages of that expurgated edition they've palmed off on you for a reader?"

"Well, there is something about the ocean."

"Good; we've saved the ocean. How about 'I Give My Hand With My Heart in It?'"

"Pshaw! Everybody knows that piece."

"Yes, yes; then there is something besides waste paper in that reader. Does it by any chance cry to you from its pages to 'Strike for Your Altars and Your Fires?'"

"No, sir."

"My mistake," Smith Apperson exclaimed. "I asked you about that piece before. It's a great one too. I used to get it off regularly twice a term, and when I didn't do it some other boy did. Never a piece out for his altars and his fires. I'll get you a copy of the kind of reader I used to have."

Mr. Apperson went the next day into a downtown book store, known to him as a place where, if they did not have a book, they would get it for you if it was to be had.

"I want a copy of McGuffey's old Fifth reader," said he.

"So do I," replied the owner of the store, who knew Apperson well. "I'll buy a gross of them at a good price. Scarcely a week goes by that I do not have a call for that book or for some other old school book."

"How," asked Mr. Apperson, "how do you account for it?"

"Well, it's this way," said the proprietor. "A father asks his boy something about what he himself has studied at school, thinking, probably, to test him. The boy fails to give the correct answer or says he never 'took' it in his grade. The father looks into the boy's book or books and finds, as perhaps in your case, that the stories in which he delighted are not included in the reader editions of today. Then he comes here to get a school book that is what he calls a real school book."

"For instance, only a few days ago a man came in for an old geography. He said the book his boy studied was absolutely of no account, historically at least."

"What do you mean, history in a geography?" I asked.

"Why," he replied, "I asked my boy about the isthmus of Darien, and he had never heard of such a place; didn't know there had ever been anything of the sort. Of course he could and did tell me all about the isthmus of Panama, but Darien wasn't in his geography. Now, I want that boy to know there was an isthmus of Darien, and I don't want him to have to take his father's word for it. Give me an old geography, one of about thirty-five years ago."

"I couldn't fill the order. Old school books are rare. Everybody wants them, some to renew memories of their youth by reading over the old pieces, others because they want to show to their children what they had to go through when they themselves went to school."

"Webster's Speller, Sander's Reader and McGuffey's Reader are the particular books which seem to stay in the memories of the old boy and the old girl. But I can't sell them because I haven't got them."

"Then I reckon I'll have to give young Harry Smith Apperson my best information and belief, as lawyers say, about how 'Freedom shrieked when Kosciuszko fell,' and so forth."

"Precisely, as you say," New York Post.

Contentment; as it is a short road and pleasant, has great delight and little trouble.—Epictetus.

THE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

Through the courtesy of the County W. C. T. U. it was my pleasure to represent them as their delegate at the State W. C. T. U. convention, which was held Sept. 28 to Oct. 1 at Waukegan.

The convention was a success with two hundred members present, every kindness and courtesy was shown the delegates, who were loyally welcomed by the mayor, commercial club, city school, Y. M. C. A., ministerial association, the press, Federation of Women's organizations, county and local W. C. T. U. The old officers were all re-elected. The commercial club gave the entire body of delegates an invitation to visit the great lake naval training school, the invitation was gladly accepted with thanks.

Thursday at 2 p. m. automobiles were furnished for all who wished to go to the naval school where there are nearly 1,000 boys in training. The boys made a fine display as we watched them drill. Commander Moffit is much loved by the boys who were proud to point to him as their good friend.

Friday commander Moffit visited the convention and gave us a word of thanks for our visit to the naval school. He said our visit had given the boys much pleasure. He said when the five mile limit was first brought before the people for consideration he was not interested until one day three of their boys who were on a permit were attacked by some drunken fellows and roughly handled just because they had on the uniform of their country. I thought surely 'tis time for every one to work for the good of our boys, so from now on I shall work for the five mile limit.

Miss Hood, our president, gave us a fine address. The resolutions adopted by the convention embodied, Liquor, Movies, Peace and Dry Chicago.

The convention closed Friday night with a fine program. The band from Evanston furnished us with fine music. A cantata entitled, "Uncle Sam's Flower Garden," was presented by the children of Waukegan was fine and much enjoyed by an immense crowd, which filled the armory. Miss Anna Gordon, president of the National W. C. T. U. gave a great address.

With this fine address the convention of 1915 passed into history. Saturday 150 delegates stopped off at Evanston to visit the home of Francis E. Willard, the national headquarters. Also the W. C. T. U. publication building. The W. C. T. U. of Evanston had provided a lunch at the Homewood M. E. church, for all delegates. After lunch we went to Rose Hill cemetery where our loved leader was buried. Memorial services were held here by the president, Miss Hood. Each delegate was given a chance to speak. Here the goodbye words were spoken, each going their own way, to be kept dear each other by the union of interest and work.

It was my pleasure while attending the memorial at Rose Hill to meet Mr. Worth, who was at one time physical director at the Y. M. C. A. in Jacksonville. His mother was a delegate from Kewanee. Mr. Worth, in company with his father, had come to take the mother home. They were going from Rose Hill to Chicago in an automobile so by invitation it was my pleasure to take the fifteen mile ride to the home of my cousin, who teaches at the University of Chicago. Sunday I attended University services, heard the Rev. Prof. Francis Greenwood Peabody, D.D., L.L.D., of Harvard University deliver an unusually great sermon. Monday went to Decatur, had a fine visit with friends. Tuesday 5 p. m. reached home, having had the best trip I ever enjoyed.

Mr. Worth wished to be remembered to his friends in Jacksonville. He is at present in the real estate business with his father.

Mrs. Sarah J. Cuckering.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

GOVERNMENT FORECAST OF LARGER SPRING CROP DEPRESSES PRICES

Market is on the Downgrade Most of the Session and Close is Unsettled—Corn Develops Strength Looking to Outlook For Freezing Weather.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Accurate forecasts that the government estimate of the spring crop would be decidedly larger than a month ago, had a bearish influence today on the price of wheat. As a result the market was on the downgrade most of the session and closed unsettled 1/2 to 1 1/2 net lower with December at $1.05 1/2 and May at $1.06 1/2.

Corn finished unchanged to be higher.

Oats up 1/2 to 3/4.

Provisions carrying from 2 1/2c decline to a rise of 3/4c.

A renewal of yesterday's buying rush took place as soon as the market opened but the consequent upturn in prices led quickly to a general selling movement and to a sharp reaction that lasted throughout the rest of the day.

Although evening up of trades to prepare for the unexpected bearish showing of the government report was mainly responsible for the depression of wheat, the market also was affected by assertions that foreign exporters and exporters were reselling at Winnipeg.

Corn developed strength owing to the outlook for freezing weather.

As a rule, guesses on the Washington report as to corn went wrong. Oats acted in sympathy with corn. Rural offerings were scarce.

Hog prices at the highest point in more than a year made the provision market score gains. Selling by packers afterward caused a slight setback for hogs.

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

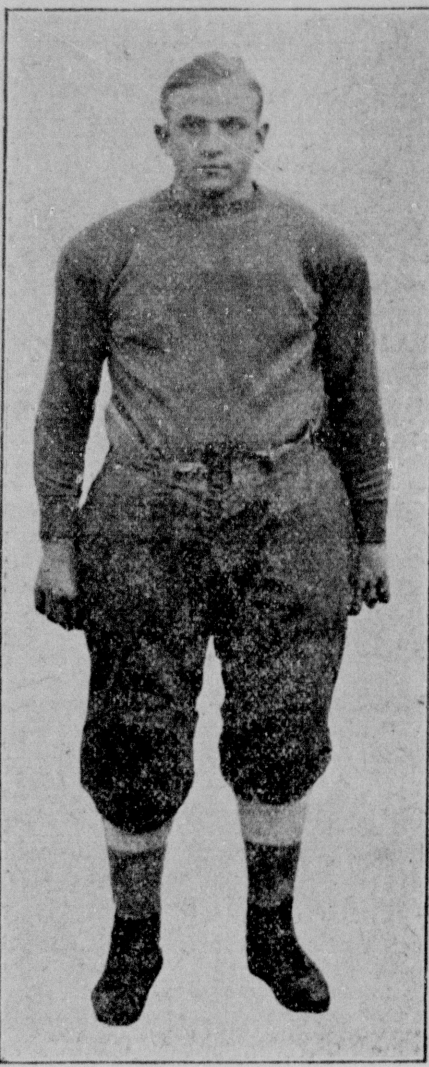

Another Sufferer Relieved.
Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, R.F.D., No. 1, Hebron, Maine.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

TWO OF THE BEST TACKLES IN MINOR COLLEGE CONFERENCE.

ILLINOIS GETTING READY FOR LOMBARD

FAST GAME EXPECTED WHEN TWO TEAMS CLASH.

Contest a Crucial One of Early Football Season Between the College Elevens.—Game Promises to Be Largely Attended.

Coach Harmon is putting his men through the hardest practice thus far in anticipation of the big game with Lombard college here Saturday afternoon. Lombard is being coached this year by Derby, who played end on Zuppke's University of Illinois team last year. It goes that he knows the finer points of the game, and with the wealth of material he has on hand, the eleven is bound to be one of the most formidable foes of any school in the Illinois minor college conference.

Derby has nine old reliable men on his staff. Phillips, the big bear cat, plays the tackle position. He will have as his opponent on the Illinois team Frisbie and Phillips are about the same weight men, both fast and in the game every minute. There will be some battle there, Jackson, who was picked as all state half back on the minor college team last year plays a half back position for the visitors. Then there is Halloran, Rosquist, the full fledged back and Carmen and Martineau end. A man whom Lombard depends a great deal upon for gains is Capt. Foodrich. He is certainly a fast man and a hard player to stop. He is known by Jacksonville football enthusiasts, and there is no little interest manifested in the coming of Derby's squad.

Coach Harmon had his men practicing the tackling stunt yesterday afternoon and utilizing the new bucking strap, recently invented. Scrimmage was held with the second team and a good workout was the result. The eleven feels the need of a practice game with some college team before the battle Saturday, but as nothing was available they will have to go into the contest handicapped along this line. The men, however, are in the pink of condition and with both Illinois and Lombard keyed to a high pitch some fast work will be witnessed.

The schedule for at home follows:
Oct. 9—Lombard.
Oct. 29—Wesleyan.
Nov. 5—Millikin.
Nov. 20—Carthage.

Tickets are being sold for the four games for a dollar and a half, with fifty cents for a single admission. Student's tickets are being sold to all students of the city at a dollar for the four games or single admission 35 cents. Season tickets can be secured either at this office or the Courier office.

Arrangements have been made whereby the Wesleyan and Millikin games will be played here on Fridays instead of Saturdays in order that more citizens may attend. The game Saturday will be called at 3 o'clock.

BASKET VENDORS.
Two men with a well kept mule team, a wagon with a long hay frame on it and a huge pile of baskets attracted the attention of people about the square yesterday afternoon. They were representatives of the Louisiana, Mo., basket factory and were traveling through the country selling the goods both at wholesale and retail. They had a formidable pile on the wagon but they said they started out with 700 baskets and now had but 438 left. The baskets were of excellent quality and they probably disposed of some while in the city.

They said they camped out at night and thus managed to get along on a small expense account.

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE.

O. F. Conklin has filed a suit directed against W. S. Edmonds et al, the purpose of which is to quiet the title to a tract of land lying in the vicinity of Orleans. It seems that some error in description was made in transferring this property a number of years ago, and the suit is simply for the purpose of correcting the record. Kirby, Wilson & Brookhouse are attorneys for Mr. Conklin.

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER! THE CROSS CHILD IS BILIOUS, FEVERISH

Look at Tongue! If Coated, Clean Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, and sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Stand back with contempt any other "fig syrup."—Adv.

"MUCH IMPROVED" SAYS SHOWMAN

"Emily" Martin of Peoria, Ill., Makes Interesting Statement.

HIGHLY PRAISES TANLAC

"Yes, I feel a great deal better," said "Emily" Martin, the well known showman, who resides at 412 Hulbert street, Peoria, and who has a host of friends in this city. Mr. Martin was recently discussing Tanlac, the new preparation now being introduced in Jacksonville, and was telling of the great benefit which he derived from the use of the "Master Medicine." He continued:

"I have suffered for some time past with stomach trouble and indigestion. I failed to digest my food properly and felt languid and listless most of the time. It was hard for me to sleep soundly and I was forced many times to get up in the morning feeling all worn out and with hardly any energy enough to go about my work."

"I had very little appetite and the few dishes that I did relish did not seem to give me the proper nourishment. I watched the introduction of Tanlac in this city with interest and I was finally so impressed with the statements of prominent people whom I knew and who had been benefited by the use of the medicine, that I decided to try it myself."

As I said before I am feeling greatly improved. My stomach is in better condition than it has been for a long time and I now enjoy an excellent appetite. I can eat with relish most anything on the 'menu card' and without suffering afterwards. I seem to have new strength and energy with which to carry on my work which makes everything easier than heretofore. Tanlac has proved the first relief that I have had for a long time and I am greatly indebted to this medicine for my greatly improved condition."

Tanlac, the "Master Medicine," is now being sold in Jacksonville, Ill., at the drug store of Coover & Shreve.—Advertisement.

RAIN MAY DELAY FIRST WORLDS SERIES GAME

STEADY DRIZZLE BEGINS EARLY TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Tener Announces Every Effort Will be Made to Play Opening Contest Today—Alexander and Shore Will Probably be the Opposing Pitchers.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Thousands of baseball fans scrutinized the sky tonight for some ray of encouragement indicating that the opening game of the world's series between the Phillies and the Red Sox would be played tomorrow according to schedule. Neither weather man nor personal observation answered the question uppermost in the minds of the fans for a steady drizzle which began early in the afternoon continued all evening and the forecast for Friday was for cloudy and unsettled weather.

Before this steady weeping of the skies the national commission, players and fans were helpless and could only sit about discussing the possibilities for the game and hoping for the best.

President John K. Tener of the National League and a member of the national commission said that no decision could be made until tomorrow morning when the staff of umpires would inspect the playing field at the National League park and report upon its condition.

"Every effort will be made to play the opening game tomorrow," said President Tener. "For the delay would badly upset the plans of many spectators from out of town. If the rain ceases during the night I understand that the playing field is expected to dry out quickly with a little wind and sun to help matters."

At the Phillies' park the groundskeeper said that the infield was in fairly good condition considering the heavy rain of the afternoon. The pitchers box and the home plate had been covered with large squares of canvass and the diamond and the outfield were soft and slippery and were far from being in shape for a fast contest such as is expected when the Boston Americans and the Philadelphia Nationals meet for the championship of the baseball world.

Notwithstanding the possibility of a delay in the starting of the series there was no dampening of the enthusiasm of the followers of the game, many of whom had come from distant points in order to witness the opening battle.

Speculation regarding the merits of the team and discussion regarding the probable outcome of the series was the only topic of conversation in the hotels and other gathering places of the fans.

Although there was unlimited talk on the hundred and one phases of the series there was very little betting on the result. There was plenty of backing for the Boston team but Philadelphia money was scarce. The Red Sox supporters offered even money on the American league champions to win the series while the Phillies adherents demanded 6 to 5. On the other hand the National League fans offered to bet 3 to 2 that the Phillies would win the opening game provided Alexander was selected by Manager Moran to do the pitching.

Boston rooters were slow to accept this bet and as a result there was a virtual deadlock on the wagering, although several betting commissioners held large sums of money waiting for their principals to get together.

Ticket speculators got far quicker action for their money as reserve seats were in great demand and the supply in the hands of the vendors was comparatively small owing to the limited accommodations at the Phillies park which is the smallest in either major league circuit, the spectators were unable to secure anything like the usual number of tickets which have been available here in past years when the athletics were contenders for the title. The few that they did come into possession of through channels known only to that fraternity brought record prices. Sets of three tickets with a face value of three dollars each or nine dollars for the trio were quoted at forty dollars and similar sets of two dollar seats sold at prices ranging from twenty to thirty dollars.

The bleacherites who do not have to worry about paying fancy prices in order to witness the diamond battle between the clans of Moran and Carrigan had other troubles to occupy their attention tonight.

The hundreds who annually keep an all-night vigil at the gates of the park in order that they may be sure of a front row seat with the gates are open early in the forenoon found conditions unusually trying. Long lines formed in the drizzle even before the grey twilight turned to the blackness of a stormy night and despite the discomfort that came from standing in the cold and dripping rain, held their enthusiasm in a most surprising manner.

The players of the two teams kept well in seclusion during the evening. The Phillies went out to the park in the afternoon with the idea of securing a short workout, but one look at the wet and soggy field caused them to change their minds and after a short conference they scattered to their homes or hotels for the night.

The Boston squad arrived from New York where they closed the league season by losing the final game to the Yankees late in the evening and after greeting the few Boston rooters who came over in advance of the main delegation of New England rooters, retired to their rooms.

President Tener, of the National League, and Garry Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, were among those to greet the players and President B. B. Johnson arrived on a late evening train.

Neither Manager Moran nor Carrigan would give out an official order but it was generally conceded, that if the game is played as the schedule the order would not be changed to any extent from the formation of the last few days of the season.

Alexander and Shore were thought to be the most likely rivals for box honors in the opening struggle with Burns and Cady doing the backstop. Cather Killifer, the Phillies' first string receiver appears to be out of the series but all the other members of both teams are reported to be on edge for the battle.

The probable batting order for the first game of the 1915 world's series is as follows:

Philadelphia—	Boston—
Stock, 3b.	Hooper, rf.
Bancroft, ss.	Scott, ss.
Paskett, cf.	Spencer, cf.
Cravath, 1b.	Hoblitell, 1b.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the fingers tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS YEAR OF ACTIVITY

WINTER'S WORK WILL BEGIN WITH LUNCHEON SATURDAY.

Topics of Timely Interest Will Be Announced in Annual Calendar—Fifty New Members Are Enrolled—The Chairmen of Woman's Club Committees.

Indications of a successful year will greet members of the Jacksonville woman's club on every hand tomorrow afternoon, when, promptly at 1 o'clock, two hundred women will sit down to the annual club luncheon in the parlors of Grace M. E. church and later witness a program of interest at Academy hall. Fifty new members have recently been added to club enrollment and the organization now numbers almost three hundred. Programs of especial strength mark the list of meetings and committee chairmen are already at work on plans for the coming months. The Domestic Science Round Table, auxiliary to the club, is in no sense behind handed and monthly sessions of interest and profit are announced in the annual calendars of the Woman's club, of which distribution will be made at the luncheon tomorrow.

Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson, president of the club, will appear with words of greeting at the close of the luncheon and Miss Anne W. Jackson will give a brief resume of the play which will be enacted soon thereafter. "Club Life of Yesterday," a one-act play by Mrs. Sherman Leavitt, will be depicted from the stage at recital hall by members of Gamma Delta society of Illinois college, who, under direction of Mrs. Thomas Worthington have for some time been in faithful training. A leaf from the minutes of the Ladies' Educational society in the year 1839 forms the basis of a sketch in which is set forth the woman's club in its earliest form. In direct contrast will be "Club Life of Today," written in monologue by Mrs. J. Parker Doan and read by Miss Janette Powell.

Mrs. Ben Lurton, president of the Domestic Science Round Table, has general supervision of plans for the meeting. Circles of the Pastor's Aid society of Grace church will serve luncheon, under direction of Mrs. A. H. Atherton, Mrs. F. H. Cogswell and Mrs. Joseph R. Barker.

Meetings of the club will be held as heretofore at Academy hall the second Saturday of each month. Mrs. A. L. Adams will have charge of the meeting Nov. 13, as chairman of the committee on public health. Dec. 11, the social service committee will have the program in charge. Mrs. David W. Reid is chairman of this committee. Jan. 8, Mrs. J. Parker Doan will have supervision of the meeting as chairman of the educational committee.

The social committee, of which Mrs. Thomas Worthington is chairman, will have the meeting in charge, Saturday, Feb. 12. Mrs. M. H. Havenhill, chairman of the civics committee, will direct the program the second Saturday in March.

The April meeting will be under direction of the music committee, of which the chairman is Mrs. Abe Wehl. In May the club year will be finished with the annual May morning breakfast.

The committee which has just completed preparation of this year's program consists of Miss Nettie Hayden, chairman; Miss Arne W. Jackson, Miss Ruth Bailey and Miss Lydia M. Barrette.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAY OF JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY
Yesterday morning at the Illinois Woman's college the birthday of the great Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley, was duly observed. There were suitable chapel exercises and among other numbers Miss Lavina Jones of the school of expression very ably recited "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," and Miss Frances Smith, also of the school of expression, pleased the audience with a rendition of "Knee Deep in June."

The occasion was a fitting tribute to the man who has written so many things for the welfare and entertainment of his fellow men.

PERSONAL INJURY SUIT ON TRIAL IN VIRGINIA

Mrs. Tribwasser Seeks Damages of $5,000 from Joseph Needham—Several Physicians Witnesses.

An interesting case is on trial before Judge Harry Higbee in the circuit court of Cass county in session at Virginia. Mrs. Tribwasser has a personal injury suit against Joseph Needham in which she is seeking damages in the sum of $5,000. It seems that something more than a year ago Mrs. Tribwasser's husband engaged in a fight with a man named Turner.

The altercation took place in the street near the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Tribwasser and Joseph Needham, the properties adjoining. Mrs. Tribwasser ran to the rescue of her husband and Mr. Needham also intervened and sought to serve as a peacemaker. Mrs. Tribwasser has declared that in his efforts to stop the fight that Mr. Needham seized her in such a way that she was thrown to the ground and injured her knee. She also charged Mr. Needham with using violent language toward her and the result of the whole proceeding was the suit now in progress.

The complainant is represented by Thomas Masters of Springfield and Charles A. Gridley of Virginia, and Mr. Needham's attorneys are Judge Dietrick of Beardstown and W. N. Hairgrove of this city. Medical testimony has quite a large place in the proceedings and Dr. Otis and Dr. O'Hara of Springfield, Dr. Lyle and Dr. Hubbard of Virginia have all testified with reference to the medical care that they gave Mrs. Tribwasser following the trouble. Dr. Edward Rowe of this city has been in attendance for several days as medical counsel for the defendant's attorneys.

Postmaster R. L. Dunlap yesterday received announcement from the postmaster general regarding the use of automobiles on rural routes. The order explains itself and is as follows:

In requesting such authority postmasters shall state the months in which the route can be served with an automobile and the schedule under which the service can be performed. From January 1, 1915, the use of bicycles on rural routes will not be permitted. Motorcycles may be used under the same conditions as automobiles if the motorcycle has a cylinder displacement of not less than 60 cubic inches, has an adjustable axle and there is permanently attached to the machine a commercial body of water proof material not less than 12 inches long, 24 inches wide, and 18 inches high, so constructed as to protect the mail thoroughly from damage and loss, the assembled machine to have a tread of 56 inches.

Team Will be Accompanied to Macoupin County by Large Number of Rooters.

Coach Huber will send the Jacksonville high school football team through their last practice this afternoon in anticipation of the game at Carlinville Saturday with the high school of that place. Carlinville is reported to have a splendid team this year, and their back field is especially fast. The Jacksonville squad has been strengthened and they expect to give a good account of themselves. The following line-up has been announced:

Right tackle—Hering.
Right guard—Arter.
Center—Sorrells.
Quarter back—Homer Reynolds.
Left half back—Howard Reynolds.
Right half back—Priest.
Full back—Haigh.
Subs—Monohon, Scott, Firkie and Walker.

Arrangements are being made for members of the team to make the trip via train and the visitors and rooters will go via automobiles. Those who will furnish cars are W. H. P. Huber, Miss Anna G. Brown, Roy Sorrells, Wilbur Rogers, Homer Reynolds, Paul Wells and others. Supt. Collins expects to attend and they will all leave here about 8 a. m. Saturday. A feature of the trip will be the high school band and it is needless to say that the Jacksonville players will be heartily received by the Carlinville people. Prof. Carter and Dale Boxell will accompany the team. Barring accidents the rooters should be in Jacksonville by 8 o'clock.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The R. A. Gates Fuel & Ice Company has inaugurated this morning a feature which will attract notice. The firm has recently secured a library of state papers which contain answers to questions of international, national, financial, political, commercial and general interests, so indexed that the subjects can be readily looked up. Each day a question and the answer will be printed and any person who is seeking special information on some point covered in the books the firm has, can secure the information by phoning the office. If there is some question about the government or business that you want answered in a brief way, this is your opportunity.

Miss Enid Hubbs, a student of the Woman's college, who has been ill of fever, at her home in Prentice, is reported much better.

TO UNITE METHODIST AND ONE PRESBYTERIAN SCHOOL

Plan is Made to Consolidate Three Institutions and Form Union College.

A plan has been proposed in Iowa for the uniting of two Methodist colleges and one Presbyterian university. The plan is one unheard of in this part of the country and an Oskaloosa, Iowa paper in commenting on it says:

"Although it came in a quiet and unexpected sort of a way, the really surprising item of business of the Iowa conference of the Methodist church at Centerville was the resolution emanating from Parsons college at Fairfield asking that steps be taken for a union of Iowa Wesleyan college at Mount Pleasant, Parsons at Fairfield and Simpson in Indiana into a federation. The intention seemed to be to organize at a central point a union college that could become one of the commanding Christian schools of learning of the west, and that the other schools would be subsidiary to it. The proposition came as such a new thing that it was referred to a special committee without debate at the time.

"The conditions proposed are as follows:

"1. The united college shall be known as Iowa Union college, Parsons-Wesleyan-Simpson foundation, to be located as may be deemed most advantageous.

"2. The board shall be self-perpetuating as to 60 per cent of its membership, and the members of the initial board shall be divided among the colleges, giving 25 per cent to Wesleyan and Simpson and 50 to Parsons. The remaining 40 per cent shall be apportioned to the conference of the Methodist Episcopal church and to the Synod of Iowa of the Presbyterian church, as location and general conditions seem to warrant.

"3. The title of all real estate and all notes, bonds, mortgages and all other papers now belonging to the separate colleges, shall be administered by the united board of trustees.

"4. Should the Union college be located at Fairfield, Mt. Pleasant, or Indianapolis, there shall be maintained as long as the board deems it wise to do so, first class preparatory schools at the other locations.

"The consolidation of these institutions would surely make a strong school, but it is a question whether better work would be accomplished than is now being done. The small college is the greatest boon to the student in that he gets closer to the heart and learns more of value of real life."
